

Maral FARJAD

BIOGRAPHY

Born on August 1980 in an artistic family, Maral Farjad started learning fine arts since the very beginning. Participating in theaters and movies from a very young age is a proof of how dedicated she and her family were in cultural roots and performing arts. Studying in the school of science gave her an academic education to be added to her natural talent and use it to her dedication towards her proficiency. Graduating from the School of Photography at the Faculty of Architecture and Fine Arts of Azad University, and participating in different theaters, TV movies and movies, gave her a great experience in seventh art industry. As daughter of a prominent Iranian actor, Jalil Farjad, she started her serious career after her graduation, and she has been working on ever since.
